

Vacation Bible School

It is time once again for one of our signature events – Vacation Bible School – aka VBS! It starts bright and early Monday morning at 9:00 am.

It is thrilling to encounter children. Little children possess an innocence that helps you to see the possibilities that life still has to offer. Recently, on Facebook, several of my friends have posted videos of babies and toddlers in the process of belly laughing. You know, the kind of laughter that brings tears to your eyes because you simply cannot stop. Those videos are precious. I feel better after watching them. Likewise, you cannot help but to have a better attitude after being around children who are excited and happy to learn about Jesus.

Even if you haven't volunteered to help during VBS, here are some things you, nevertheless, can do.

1. Pray. Prayer is powerful. See James 5:16. Pray for the families and for the children who will attend this year's school. Pray for their teachers and all of the VBS workers that things go well, that lives are forever influenced and especially that God is honored.
2. Encourage. Let the teachers, workers, students and families know how proud you are of them. Help them to see that the energy and time that they are giving this week accomplishes immediate and yet to be determined results. Be a Barnabas – See Acts 4:36.
3. Help. There is setup, cleanup and follow-up that need to be done. Stay around today and see if a teacher or worker needs your assistance. Check with Jason to see if there is anything you can do before or after VBS.
4. Greet. Next Sunday, August 10th we will host our annual VBS Extravaganza! This is where we invite all VBS families to come for worship and fellowship. It is a time to show appreciation to them for allowing us to work with their children. It is a time to demonstrate "Family." So be a part. Bring food, stay and reach out to people.

May all of us do what we can! Take care!
