Prayer!

“Hear my prayer, O Lord, and give ear to my cry; do not be silent at my tears...”

God is our Creator and Father, and it should be natural that we, His creation - His children, should desire to speak to or interact with Him. As Creator, He knows the very last, minute detail about our lives. As Father, His love, care and concern for us abounds (See 1 Peter 5:7). So, it is understandable that we (His creation- His children) have a longing for contact and communication.

Prayer is you speaking to your Father and laying everything before Him - praise, honor, glory thanksgivings, requests, struggles, mistakes, confusions, hurts and cares. In some respects it is like any relationship - He speaks (Through His Word) and you speak (Through Prayer and Living). As with any “Father” (Even though He is not just any Father), you possess honor, love and respect when you address Him! In addition, you HEAR Him (See James 1:22) and He (The Great “I AM”) - the One Who knows what is best for you - hears you.

Tonight at the 6:00 pm worship service (Please be present), we will discuss the request of Jesus’ disciples, “Lord Teach Us to Pray.” See you there

“Lord Teach Me to Pray”

Matthew 6:9-14

Think About It...

“And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.”

Romans 5:5

Even though it is God’s love that is ultimately most important in anyone’s life, a parent’s love (or lack thereof) is perceived and felt first. Parental love is the first love a child experiences and the first love he/she understands. In fact, parental love is often the means by which children actually open themselves to God’s love and come to understand it early in life.

Ask God to show you what you can do to communicate love to your child – and don’t listen to the Devil weighing you down with guilt about past failure. You know his tactics:

“If you weren’t so dysfunctional, you’d be able to communicate love to your child”

“No one ever loved you, so how can you love anyone else?”

These lies are from the pit of hell and part of Satan’s plan for your child’s life.

If you are being tormented by guilt or feelings of failure in this area, confess your thoughts to God, pray about it, put it in God’s hands, and then stand up and proclaim the truth. Say, “God loves my child. I love my child. Other people love my child. If my child doesn’t feel loved, it’s because he/she has believed the lies of the enemy. We refuse to live according to Satan’s lies.
